Lighting Education Great Opportunity

People in Raymond have a real opportunity now, of using the expert services of Miss Effie Ternan, who is at the Canadian Utilities office and who is anxious to assist Raymond people in getting the most for their money in home illumination.

Perhaps no development in recent years has so stirred the imagination of those interested in home lighting as has the new "Science of Seeing" — A science of vital importance to everyone who has eyes to see with. Reduced to its simplest form, this new approach to an old problem forms a partnership for the first time between light and vision. The proper correlation of the two means less strain for your eyes, and consequently less wear and tear on the nerves. Follow the directions of the lighting expert, and your family will be spared the ill-effects of defective vision.

There are so many things that enter into the question of correct lighting, that it would take several columns to describe even part of it, and for that reason we will not attempt a lengthy discussion of the subject. But, in the interest of economy, better vision and health why not get the benefit of an expert's study and experience, as long as you can do it free. A telephone call to 20, and an appointment will be made.

This fact should be borne in mind, that we pay very dearly when we read, and force our children to study with poor lighting arrangements. It may not need the spending of more money, either for fixtures or for current, but merely the proper arranging of the light to the table or chair, or what not, that you desire to have illuminated. Why not ask and find out just what your problem is. It is entirely FREE.

The Relief Society Temple Excursion took quite a number from the two Raymond wards to Cardston on Wednesday.

Never have Raymond's streets been as pleasant to drive a car over as since the graveling and dragging recently done by the Government maintainers. The road to Welling is also in very good condition.

Raymond Reservoir Is Urged by Connor As Relief Measure

EXTENSION OF OLD MILK RIVER DITCH URGED BY M. L. A.—WOULD NEED $50,000 GRANT

Edmonton, Alta. Nov. 7.—A joint grant of $50,000 by the provincial and federal governments to provide a fresh water supply for Southern Alberta livestock in the Milk River area, is advocated by M. J. Connor, U.F.A. member for Warner, who is a visitor here. The member also proposes that an irrigation project undertaken in this area about 1900 should be completed.

If the scheme were launched it would mean the construction of 34 miles of new ditch, north west from Milk River to the Milk River reservoir site south of Raymond. A territory of 875,000 acres would be served, comprising a rural population of 3,617 while in addition there was a ranch population of 904. Many towns in the area would benefit from the member.

Mr. Connor suggests that the plan should be carried out with the provincial and Dominion sharing the cost as a relief works program. Maps have already been drawn and surveys made by the government engineers.

Clifford Scoville Passes Away

Sadness spread over the district Thursday, when the news travelled of the passing of Clifford Scoville, aged 27, who has been a patient sufferer for about two years, from an abscess on the brain and complications following an operation by a specialist in Edmonton.

A young man of good habits, and with a very promising future, he was stricken down unexpectedly with this strange malady, and despite all efforts, and the expenditure of a great deal of money, he was unable to find relief for any length of time, and no cure at all for his trouble. While in good health he gained fame as a foot racer especially in distance running, and also played on the Mutual basketball teams.

Besides his parents Mr. and Mrs. Asa Scoville and brothers and sisters he leaves his young wife, who before her marriage was Miss Lucille Fawns, and a baby to mourn his passing. The sympathy of the community goes out to all who mourn.

Funeral services will be held in the Second Ward Chapel, Saturday at 1 p. m. with the Second Ward Bishopric in charge.

Miss Phillips Pupils Heard In Recital

A nice crowd was present at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Meldrum on Friday evening last for the piano recital by the pupils of Miss Muriel Phillips of Lethbridge, who spends Friday Saturday each week, teaching piano.

Twenty-six numbers, including several dances by the pupils of Miss Roberts, made a very interesting and varied program and all of the participants gave a very good account of themselves in their rendition of their numbers.

Louis R. King was in Milk River Friday night, playing for a dance.

HUTTERITE WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lind and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Orgill were guests at the first wedding to be celebrated by the O.K. colony of Hutterites. The affair started the night before on Monday evening which consisted mainly of the young people gathering together. Next morning they all repaired to the church. School was out for the day and every child was allowed to be present. After innumerable questions and answers the young couples, Joe Wertz and Jake Hoeffer from the O. K. and two young ladies from Old Elm and Hutterite were declared married.

After dinner the crowd again gathered when immense fishes of ice-cream were passed around and beer served from small glasses on trays. The singing never stopped for one moment all afternoon. The only effects noticed from the beer was a little added jollity and an extra amount of fervor in the hymn singing.

Each Hutterite bride brings to her husband a splendid pile of down quilts and mattresses covered with bright checkered gingham, reaching from the bed to the ceiling, when folded the brides are present but the whole colony of the home of the young men are expected to be there.

Remembrance Day

Contributed by Rev. J. F. Butler, Chaplain, Medicine Hat Branch, Canadian Legion B. E. S. L.

The 11th day of November has been set apart by the Government of Canada as "Remembrance Day." On this date sixteen years ago, the Great War ended. A war which lasted over four years and in which 562,203 men and women of the British Empire including 60,000 Canadians, laid down their lives for honour, justice and freedom, principles for which we too should be "ever ready to live or die valiantly."

"Remembrance Day" is not a holiday it is a Holy Day, sacred to the memory of our heroic dead. It reminds us that Canada stood with the other great Dominions side by side with the Motherland; that nearly 600,000 Canadians were under arms; that 2520 nurses enlisted; that both nurses and men proved themselves equal to those who had had years of training for Active Service; that thousands of broken hearts and widows and orphaned children resulted; and that 60,000 Canadians lie sleeping in the "Gardens of the Dead" in Flanders and other battlefields. Why? The answer is given in the words of Sir Robert Borden, then Prime Minister,—"Not for Love, or for Glory, but for the sake of the Empire, and on the hearts and minds of those who survived."

You are familiar with the following words:—"My duty to my country is to love it, to obey and maintain its laws, respect its flag, and to defend it against all enemies." This is exactly what these brave men and women did who gave their lives for the land they loved. Is it not fitting, therefore, that this day should be set apart as a memorial to them, and as an opportunity for us to salute them in reverence and gratitude.

There are set up in almost every city, town and village in Canada memorials to those heroes. Respect, and care for these evidences of our country's gratitude is all your life, for on them are engraved the names of those who made the supreme sacrifice that you might live in peace and safety.

Tomorrow an Empire will stand at attention, its speech silenced, its thought centered upon the brave dead. It is inspiring to know that millions of grateful people in our vast Empire will take part in this sacred act of remembrance. Will you join them? Be present at the ceremony at the Cenotaph, and in the "Two Minutes Silence," listen to the spirit voices of the War dead in the great beyond as they cry:—"To you from falling hands we throw The Torch—be yours to hold it high; If ye break faith with us who die We shall not sleep though poppies grow In Flanders Fields."

Aftermath

IF YE BREAK FAITH WE SHALL NOT SLEEP

Over the crimsoned field where poppies blow

A grey mist hovers like a charging wraith;

And voices bring a cry from out the midst;

"We sleep not, Comrades; do ye keep the faith?"

They gave their lives to make a better world,

Safe for the old, the helpless, and the young

Safe for that wider brotherhood of man;

What of that victory so dearly wrung?

What is this foe with whom we keep the quarrel?

What is this conflict that we must suppress?

What but the idol in the market place

The symbol of a nation's selfishness!

Is this remembering, that day by day

They who were with "them" falter to our doors—

Begging their humble stint of daily bread,

The heroes—nay, the victims of our wars

That day by day they toil the weary roads,

While little children starve, and Women sigh;

Our granaries overflow with golden grain;

"What say you, Comrades? Is the Torch held high?"

Far on Olympus, how the Gods must laugh!

"The larks still sing; the morning comes anon"

We hoard the golden grain— and fling the chaff!

"The poppies flourish—but our rest is gone!"

On Oct. 26 the meeting of the "Bonne Amie club" was held at the home of Mrs. Edda Tolstrup. The subject under discussion being Home Economics and knitting. A few tables of Bridge were played, honours going to Mrs. Alice Shaw. A delicious lunch was served by the hostess.

The regular meeting of the Board of Trade after a lengthy summer holiday was held in the Town Hall on Monday evening with the President C. D. Compton in the chair. Due to the busy season, and this being the first meeting attendance was small.

The Financial Statement of the Dominion Day Stampede was the first matter of business. This was read by J. W. Evans, Finance chairman, and showed a surplus over expenses of $800.00, which will go to the Board of Trade funds. Receipts for the day from Entry Fees, Lance and Gate, totalled $1,377.93, and the disbursements, in the way of prizes, and expenses were $880.42. A few bills were still outstanding, which left a surplus as stated. This surplus was possible through everyone donating their efforts to the Stampede. O. R. Knight donated the use of his horses, and Meeks Bros. the cattle without cost. The advertising too was handled without cost to the Board, the Advertising Committee having solicited the Town funds for this purpose, and kept their expenses within these funds. The sentiment of the meeting was strongly in favor of another show next year, and several suggested a two day Stampede. This point however was not definitely decided.

The meeting also voted to make a donation of $25.00 to Andy Lund, who is in hospital with a broken hip, and is having a great deal of trouble. Andy has always been a supporter and a contestant in our Stampedes, and the meeting felt it was an opportune time to assist him in some slight way.

The President reported that following the custom of other Boards where the W. I. Conferences had been held, he had donated $10.00 of Board of Trade funds to pay for the evening entertainment at the Capitol Theatre of the visiting ladies. This action was ratified by the meeting.

A motion was carried to send a cheque for $20.00 for our share of the All Round Cowboy prize to the secretary A. E. Bissett at Lethbridge.

The program for December meeting was discussed, and it was decided to have the President ask Dr. Stewart, our M. P., to come here on December 3rd and take the time of the meeting in an explanation of the Dominion Marketing Act and the Farmer's Credit Bill, Details of this will be announced later.

Roads were discussed, and it was decided to ask the C.P.R. and the M. D. to straighten out the crook in the road at Anderson, to ask the M. D. to re-align it, which it is reported the Government has made, in having gravel to spread on this end of this stretch, as a start toward getting it travelled on to Craddock, and then taken over by the Government as a Secondary highway. This was felt to be one way of getting this road surfaced, provided a start was made.

M. J. Connor, our local M.P.P. met with the Comm. Thursday evening, and the meeting went into a long discussion of the proposed Reservoir in Mid Canada, from the waters of Milk River. Mr. Connor reported that the Provincial government was very much in favor of the proposition and if the Dominion would help he felt it would go through this winter.

POPPY DAY

Poignant reminder of those spacious days of glory and grieving, "Poppy Day" once more recurs to prompt the citizens of this country in the duties they have inherited from the past generation. To Canadian youth in this year of grace, the deep-red petals of the Poppy may not carry the same significance they bore to the youth of sixteen years ago. The symbolism of sacrifice with which the Poppy has become charged is something to which the present generation succeeds only through the wistful memories of the aging men who fought their Country's battles, who suffered privations, endured long agonies and finally triumphed amid surroundings carpeted with Poppies.

To wear this humble emblem on Poppy Day is to proclaim that amid all the jangling confusion through which the country is striving valiantly to penetrate, the heart and mind are nevertheless attuned to a sense of homage due those men whose peace inspired 600,000 Canadians to offer themselves for service between 1914 and 1918; of that number more than 60,000 found graves in France and Belgium.

And it is over those graves that the Poppy blows in perennial bloom.

The numbered dead were not strangers. They were young Canadians, filled even as the young of today is filled, with the joy of living. So also, were the 170,000 men who in 1934 bear upon their bodies the marks and scars of war—the disabled veterans who suffered disablement on behalf of Canada.

To manifest that proud recognition of their place in this Country, to mark that tribute which is their due, Poppy Day has been set aside in order that all may join in recalling the Great Sorrow.

The blood-red emblems distributed throughout Canada by the Canadian Legion's vast volunteer organization are the product of disabled veterans, men striving to maintain themselves in the Veterans Shops administered by the Dominion Government. To purchase a Poppy is a small thing. For every citizen to do so is a big thing.

Let us all wear a Poppy on Poppy Day.

Duncan Weaver's picture appears amongst the L.D.S. missionaries who have been carrying on so successfully at the World's Fair in Chicago. These missionaries have met between 5,000 and 7,000 people daily.

While it is not definitely known whether any member of the Quorum of the Twelve will be here Saturday and Sunday for the Taylor Stake Conference President Samuel O. Bennion of the First Seven Presidents of Seventy will very likely be here for all sessions.

11. TWENTY-FIVERS' CLUB

PERFECTION in Skeet, as in some other forms of Sport, is occasionally possible. Of course, even with born shots, it will not come over night, but is largely the result of patient hard work and regular practice.

It takes different shapes. It may be 25 x 25 at a club shoot, or 100 x 100 at a tournament shoot.

Or it may be with a .410 as against a 12 gauge gun. Everything else being equal, high scores with the smaller sizes are considered better sporting performances than if a bigger gun were used. Pointing is harder, loads are lighter, patterns smaller. So if a shooter makes the Twenty-Fivers' Club with a 12 or 16 gauge, he still has perfection to aim at with a 20 or a .410.

In the United States, where, as we have seen, Skeet shooting is a very popular and long-established game, the number of members in the Twenty-Fivers' Club grows annually. But the long runs of 100 targets, the tournament shoots, are still a mark of achievement for the vast majority to shoot at.

The fascination, the real interest of Skeet, lies in the shooter watching his own score steadily improving. From 10 or 15 out of 25, then to 20. After a lengthy period of hovering around 23, 21, 22, the lucky man gets his eye and nerves suddenly to click and he pulls down a straight 25. What a memorable day that is!

But, not content with that, he puts down his 12 gauge and goes small gun. The apex of enjoyment lies in the .410. Twenty-five straight, with it, is perfection in shooting Skeet.

This is No. 11 of a series of 12 articles on Skeet Shooting. Cut it out. When all have been clipped, you will have a complete write-up of this sportsman's sport which is rapidly becoming the vogue across Canada.

WEEKLY LETTER

Some Notes on Early Winter Work on the Farm

Field work for the year is rapidly being finished at the Station and outside activities here now, as this letter is written, are devoted mainly to making final preparations for the winter months ahead. Hauling coal, putting on storm windows besides getting the sheds, shelters and poultry houses in shape for the cold of winter, are chores that naturally call for attention as the days continue to shorten and the time for winter approaches. The present is also a very good time to make notes of repairs needed, for taking stock of seed supply on hand and for making plans for the coming year while the experiences and observations of the past season are still fresh in mind.

Putting away farm machinery for the winter furnishes a good example of this. It is here that the pocket note book and somewhat stubby pencil, the station foreman always carries, are used to good advantage in making note of any machinery parts that are broken, worn or missing. If all necessary details such as name and number of parts are noted, there is less danger of any essential repairs being overlooked and rush work next year being held up. Another valuable use the station foreman makes of his little book is to make written notes of field work that needs to be done first thing in the spring. This information is of course in addition to the more elaborate notes and data collected by the technical staff and their assistants, but the idea of the pocket note book such as the station foreman carries could be adopted by many farmers to good advantage. Notes made of any particular problem when it occurs should be helpful when writing to experimental farms or other sources for information.

The poultry houses here at the station have all been thoroughly cleaned for the winter. In doing this cleaning the old straw and litter are tramped out, then the walls, windows and floors are scrubbed with a broom, using a hot solution made by putting one cup of lye into three gallons of cold water. This lye wash makes a very powerful disinfectant but needs to be handled carefully and must not be allowed to come in contact with the face or hands. It is for this reason that a broom and not a hand brush is used. Another precaution taken by the station poultryman is to treat the birds for lice in the fall as well as in the spring. The treatment is simply to paint the roosts with undiluted Black Leaf 40, about 15 minutes before dark. When the birds go to roost the heat from their bodies causes fumes to develop from the Black Leaf 40 which are extremely deadly to any lice that may be present on the bodies of the birds.

Outside fall work in the garden is all but completed for the season. All the irrigated land to be used for vegetable next year has been manured and ploughed; the raspberry canes have been bent over and covered with about three inches of moist soil to protect against winter killing, and as soon as the ground freezes the strawberry bed is to be covered with a straw mulch. Several hundred apple shoots have just been collected from trees of the Melba variety and buried in sand in the root cellar to keep them moist and dormant during the winter. These shoots or scions will be used for grafting onto hardy root stocks in the spring, and for grafting some large crab apple trees.

The seed cleaning plant at the station is all in readiness for another busy winter and farmers who wish to avail themselves of the seed cleaning facilities here and are able to bring their seed to the station are urged to do so sometime during the next four months. Charges for cleaning will be low during December, January and February, but after March 1st, when preparations for spring work start, charges will be doubled, and after April 1st, or when field work actually starts this service may be discontinued. As an accommodation to farmers grain will be accepted in lieu of cash in payment for the cleaning. The seed cleaning plant here is very conveniently designed and with elevator facilities is equipped to handle grain in either bags or bulk. The cleaning equipment includes a Monitor that handles from 50 to 70 bushels per hour, an Erie son "kicker" or wild oat separator, a clipper cleaner, a corn sheller and a Marcet grader.

MUST SELL BUTTER BY NET WEIGHT

Recently inspectors of the Dairy and Cold Storage Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture have been making a closer check up of the weights of prints of butter in order to insure that the consumer is receiving full weight. This has disclosed that the legal requirements concerning the sale of butter are not being observed by some vendors.

These regulations provide in Subsection 3 (a) of Section 6 of Part I of The Dairy Industry Act that any butter intended for sale that has been moulded or cut into prints, blocks, squares or pats must be "of the full net weight of one quarter pound, one-half pound, one pound, one and one-half pounds, two pounds, three pounds, four pounds, five pounds, ten pounds, twenty pounds, or thirty pounds, as the case may be, and nothing in this paragraph shall be held to apply to butter in casks or hampers, or of indeterminate weight, as sold by farmers."

HEALTH

THE SANATORIUM

"Not where he is but what he does will determine whether he gets well" writes one author on the subject of treatment of tuberculosis. The same author agrees that the sanatorium is the best place for treatment because it is there that the patient learns best what he should and what he should not do.

Many who become ill cling to their homes and resent the idea of removal from their family and the home surroundings. They are somewhat fearful of an institution, and they have no desire to meet new people or to be under the care of strange doctors and nurses.

There was a time when the location of the sanatorium was considered to be an important point. We know now that climate is of relatively little importance in the treatment of tuberculosis. Some patients do better in one climate than in another but there is no general rule on this subject. The air should be clear, and free from smoke, dust, and odours.

One of the reasons in favour of sanatorium care is that, in sanatorium, the patient finds it easier to form the new habits of life which he must practise if he is to recover and maintain his health, because he is with others who are doing the same thing. The sanatorium staff is composed of individuals who are devoting their lives to the fight against tuberculosis. Naturally, in the sanatorium, are found the special skills used to combat the disease.

While it is true that the sanatorium regime may be copied in the home, it is impossible to be in the home, even when confined to bed, and escape the worries of the household, the advice of visitors, the noise of the streets and the ringing of the telephone bell. Rest—physical and mental—is what is required, and in very few homes is it possible to give the patient that complete physical relaxation and freedom from worry which are required during the early part of his treatment.

There are other advantages in the sanatorium for the patient, and over and above all these is the protection that the patient's stay in sanatorium affords his family. Tuberculosis is spread from the sick to the well. It is believed that no one under sixteen years of age should be allowed to live in the same home with an active case of tuberculosis, because of the danger of infection. The patient in sanatorium is no source of danger to his family. It is this security which decides many fathers and mothers to accept temporary separation from the families in order to protect their children. In sanatorium too, they will learn how to live so as not to spread the disease when they return to their homes.

WORLD'S IDEAL APPLE, THE DELICIOUS, AT IT'S BEST WHEN KEPT COOL.

Never was an apple more aptly named than the Delicious which is deservedly popular with producers, distributors and consumers according to Country Life in B. C. This variety develops to perfection in the sunny orchards of the Okanagan Valley. Under favorable conditions the trees grow rapidly and produce heavy crops of magnificent fruit.

The demand for Delicious has been so great that growers have received a substantial premium per box for this variety. The satisfactory price received for Delicious has encouraged planting of new orchards. These trees are now commencing to bear fruit so that the tonnage of Delicious apples is increasing rapidly.

Faced with the problem of marketing this rapidly increasing tonnage, growers will do well to bear in mind that Delicious has one serious weakness. It ripens rapidly at high temperatures, soon becoming mealy in texture and insipid in flavor.

This meakness often develops while the apple is still, to all outward appearances in its prime.

Fortunately, Delicious remain in prime eating condition over a comparatively long time, provided they are kept at a low temperature. Experiments conducted at the Summerland Experimental Station indicate that Delicious ripen less in 2 months at a temperature of 32 degrees F. than they do in one week at a temperature of 60 degrees F. Delicious, kept at 60 degrees F. reached the mealy stage a month before Christmas, whereas similar fruit held at 32 degrees F. was in prime eating condition the following March.

YOUR GROCER HAS THIS SUNNY WAY TO BETTER HEALTH

Check Common Constipation with a Delicious Cereal

Food has a lot to do with how you feel and how you look. For instance, you need plenty of "bulk" with your meals to avoid the risk of common constipation.

This ailment frequently causes headaches, loss of appetite and energy. Yet, in most cases, it can be overcome pleasantly and safely by eating a delicious cereal.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN furnishes "bulk" in convenient and concentrated form. Laboratory tests show the "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is safe and effective. In fact, it is much like that found in leafy vegetables.

Within the body, the fiber of ALL-BRAN absorbs moisture, and forms a soft mass. Gently, this clears out the intestinal wastes.

In addition, ALL-BRAN provides vitamin B and iron.

Isn't this sunny way better than taking patent medicine—so often harmful? Two tablespoonsful of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases, with each meal. If seriously ill, see your doctor. ALL-BRAN makes no claim to be a "cure-all."

Enjoy ALL-BRAN as a cereal, or cook into appetizing recipes. Be sure you get Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. It contains much more needed "bulk" than part-bran products. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

NOTICE!

Monday, the 12th day of November is declared a Civic Holiday in honor of Armistice Day which fell on Sunday, by Resolution of the Town Council.

Children get Good Light Outdoors

but what do they get in the house?

When youngsters play outdoors they have the benefit of a great amount of natural light. When they come inside for — much closer eye work — they often play, read and study by light that is only a thousandth as much.

Yet good lighting is inexpensive. There are definite guides to help you have it. And good lighting will help prevent defective vision, which is now so prevalent that 23% of all persons under 20 years are already so handicapped.

Let our Home Service Department make a free survey of your home and tell you what amount of light science prescribes for every task. There is no obligation — no expense — for this service. Just call Telephone 20.
